Coloring is not only fun but also an important tool for a child's development. Therefore, if your child doesn't like to color, it is worth encouraging them to do so. Thanks to coloring, the child learns to hold the crayon correctly and coordinate the hand's work. He practices not going beyond the line and precise movements. Concentration - while coloring, the child focuses on the picture and its activity, and precision requires concentration. This skill will be handy at school - all in the form of playing with the child. Developing creativity - coloring is not only about filling in ready-made pictures. Contrary to appearances, it is an excellent exercise for imagination and creativity. Learning colors - the child learns to distinguish between different colors, shapes, and proportions. After some time, it can extract more and more elements from an image and highlight them with color. Expressing emotions - each of us tries to express our feelings differently. Coloring can also fulfill this function. The choice of colors has a therapeutic value and allows you to express yourself creatively.
