The Blue Heron Ranch Cookbook, based on Cooking Off the Grid, also by Nadia Natali, blends 126 tasty, healthful recipes with lively tales of the Natali family's adventures living close to the land—in the wilds of California's Los Padres National Forest. Nadia Natali's varied dishes, suitable for any group or family, are presented in a simple style that makes them both visually appealing and effortless, as a sequence of ingredients that correspond to numbered directions. Each chapter opens with a vivid account of the family's trials and triumphs at Blue Heron Ranch, followed by a particular category of recipes, arranged in seven groupings. Whimsical illustrations adorn the recipes and embellish the sometimes poignant, often hilarious stories about raising a family in the wilderness, running a meditation center, and facing nature's seemingly endless challenges—with the Blue Heron Ranch kitchen being the center around which these events unfold. Recipes include Blue Heron Ranch Potato Leek Soup, Saturday Market Quiche, Miso Pine Salmon, Ojai Bouillabaisse, Early Morning Rice Cream, Aunt Ev's Cardamom Bundt Cake, and Honey Almond Chai. The Blue Heron Ranch Cookbook offers culinary and spiritual sustenance to anyone who wants to experience, or revisit, the pleasures of comforting, communal meals at Zen and other retreat centers.

In Poetic Perspective, From Memoir to Metaphor the author presents narratives that explain the context from which his poetry is drawn-bringing poetry to life for many who never understood it before. "A rare poet's-eye view of the heart of the homeland; I read it in the Lincoln Bathroom-it was funny, wasn't it?" ~ G.W. Bushé "Poetry Rocks! G-rated language with X-rated passion!" ~ H. Hefner "Stirred, never shaken-this poetry is more cleaver than 007!" ~ I. Fleming "P.P. treads where no chicken has dared to go! Compared to Soup, this, is a cheeseburger!" ~ J. Box "If roses are red, 'Perspective' is INGIGO!" ~ V.v. Gogh "In light of this single-hander, I'm just a day-sailor." ~ H. Melville "when the world was mudluscious and puddlewonderful, too bad, he wasn't born yet!" ~ e. cummings "I laughed. I cried. I decided to take a road less traveled, and enrolled in DeVrie's." ~ R. Frost

Harper's Weekly

"Rudder" is a large, gregarious golden retriever puppy who likes to put his considerable energy into making new friends. The first book in the series, Rudder and the Great Blue Heron details his lively interactions with people and animals on a Maine island. Rudder meets seals, a porcupine, cows, ducklings, loons, and finally the Great Blue Heron. In every encounter, Rudder finds a common thread that makes friendship possible. The theme of the book is intended to teach children the possibility of friendship in everyone they meet no matter their differences." <https://rudderandfriends.com/>

The Friend

A funny and heartwarming story that also happens to be true. It all began with a visit of a Great Blue Heron to the author's backyard. Henry the Heron is a wild bird that has also become a pet, a very unusual pet to be sure. You cannot pet him, or put him on a leash and take him for a walk, or bring him inside the house to sleep next to you at night. But this wonderful bird has brought such joy into the lives of many over the last ten years that he has continued visiting the author's backyard. This is a true story of friendship with nature and reminds us all of the wonders of nature that surround us, we just need to pay attention.

Friends' Weekly Intelligencer

If you relish writing which pushes the envelope with the unconventional, Snowcub is for you. Graham Fulbright has struck gold with his quintet of soft animal toys and their shared dreamstate metamorphoses into sharp-minded, flesh-and-blood creatures. Whereas Moby Dick's creator thought domesticated dogs and horses Man's cleverest mind readers, Graham looks to the wild side for nature's shrewdest judges of human nature. But he also rings the changes, putting words into the mouths and beaks of creatures unable to think straight because of unwittingly parodying humankind. And, as is often the case with Graham, language comes under the microscope. There's no shying away from the fact that the main thrust of this novel will sit uneasily on some readers' consciences. An intrepid teenager has thrown down the gauntlet: face up to the inconvenient truth that most of us think animals exist to do with as we see fit. Last but not least, let's not forget the creature after whom this novel is named. You will be hard put not to warm to the furry protagonist and his quest for self-realisation as he grapples with doubts, fears and aspirations mirroring your own. Under this heroic creature's leadership and armed with lessons learnt from their encounters with animal life across the globe the novel's five goodwill ambassadors become a young girl's mental support agents in defence of the planet's threatened fauna.

The Blue Heron Ranch Cookbook

A taste of trouble is in the air when a group of well-heeled, fudge-loving women descend on Ava Oosterling's newly acquired and lovingly refurbished bed & breakfast inn for a chocolate lovers' getaway.

When one of the women turns up dead--and Ava's grandfather is a prime suspect--Ava plunges into the thick of a murder case stickier than her candy store's line of Fairy Tale fudge flavors and the chocolate facials the women adore at the local spa. It's springtime and the start of the tourist season in Fishers' Harbor, Wisconsin. Ava has opened the Blue Heron Inn with the help of handsome construction worker Dillon Rivers. Unfortunately, Dillon's mother--Ava's ex-mother-in-law--is among the secretive divas who become suspects along with Grandpa. Ava turns for help from her friends but they have troubles, too. One is eager for a wedding proposal to unfold on live television, while another friend is expecting her first baby and asks Ava to assist with the birth. Everything and everybody Ava loves seems in chaos--her fudge shop, her inn, her family, and her own friendships... Until she uncovers a thirty-year-old secret of the "deadly fudge divas".

I Asked the Blue Heron

Three days before Halloween, Alyssa Swain finds a man dead in his car but, once she gets help, the body is gone. When scruffy, tall, dead man John Christopherson shows up alive on her doorstep, he insists she called him to help her get ready for a party. Now the crazy man won't leave her house or her heart. How can she keep him from crossing over into the afterlife at midnight on Halloween?

Tom Tilly and the Blue Heron

When grocery store owner Margie Mueller's fiancé--chef Tony Farina--sends her a "fertility rug" to stand on at their wedding, she panics. Margie's no spring chicken and she's not about to hatch a big brood for the Farinas. Before she can call off the wedding, the Farina clan invades Moonstone for partying and interference in the wedding preparations. But Margie doesn't mind--behind the scenes she's got a murder to solve. A dead man has shown up wrapped in the fertility rug. And it looks like her fiancé may know more about it than he's letting on.

The Home friend, a weekly miscellany of amusement and instruction

An early, deep snow has gifted Fishers' Harbor, Wisconsin, with a perfect setting for the holiday celebration. Unfortunately removing snow from Main Street for the parade reveals the dead tax assessor with a knife in him--containing Grandpa Gil's fingerprints. It's clearly a setup and one that keeps Ava and Grandpa Gil under the watchful eyes of Sheriff Tollefson. Who wants Grandpa to miss playing Santa Claus in the Christmas parade and why? Who's being naughty instead of nice? Grandpa doesn't help his case with talk of leaving town for good--words that chill Ava worse than the weather. She can't imagine life without Grandpa's warm hugs and laughter. When vandals strike the historic shop and someone leaves Ava and fiancé Dillon Rivers for dead in the snow, Ava wonders if she may need the magical help of Santa's elves to solve the holiday folly.

The Photographer's Friend

A recently mutilated, naked corpse is found in an early 19th-century tunnel under San Francisco. With no forensic evidence, solving the crime seems impossible. After San Francisco Homicide Inspector Vince Torelli begins investigating, notes from the killer, addressed to him, start showing up. Vince realizes this murder may be the first of several, leading Vince on a deadly multi-state investigation.

Nietzsche's Noontide Friend

San Francisco Homicide Investigator and Vietnam veteran Vince Torelli strives to clean up the violence in San Francisco but, after a suspect in a double murder is killed during an attempted arrest, he finds himself also protecting the police officers of the city he considers family. His efforts put him in the line of fire when he's targeted. The brother of the suspect victim wants revenge on the officers responsible and he'll stop at nothing. He kidnaps Vince, a man obsessively loyal to his job as well as those he works alongside, a man as smart and committed to his principles as the criminals he catches almost without fail. Vince knows best, though, a blood debt always demands payment...

Argosy All-story Weekly

Caroline Leland has written The Cantankerous Bed novella and The Blue Heron short story for the young reader. They are small adventures in the everyday world with a young girl heroine in each story. The young ladies make new friends and partake in unusual events that enlighten their lives.

The Friend

Shiloh, The Life and Times of my Best Friend is the story of a mixed breed hound dog who was adopted into our family from the humane society. Her story is at times humorous, at times reflective and finally somewhat sad. The story will remind you of all those pets that are at times willful and stubborn, but provide their human friends with so much true companionship. Shiloh's spirited nature brought our family many years of entertainment and happiness. The book is an enjoyable read for the entire family. We hope you enjoy the fourth work from the pen of Dennis Lassi, Shiloh, The Life and Times of my Best Friend.
